How much should I expect to pay for AUSTEDO XR/AUSTEDO?

If you go to a pharmacy and ask what the price of a particular prescription medication is, your pharmacist will typically not be able to give you a quick answer. The amount you pay will largely depend on a number of factors:

- Whether you have prescription drug insurance
- The type of insurance you have
- Whether your insurance provider considers the medication to be preferred or not preferred
- Whether you have met your deductible

Considering these factors, any two people could pay very different prices for exactly the same prescription medication. All prescription medications have a list price, which is set by the manufacturer. Very few people pay the list price.

AUSTEDO XR comes in 3 different tablet strengths: 9 mg, 12 mg, and 24 mg, and AUSTEDO comes in 3 different tablet strengths: 6 mg, 9 mg, and 12 mg.
